Chapter 2: Faculty Professional Rights, Ethics and Responsibilities

2.1 Freedom and Responsibility in the University Community.

- A. Appalachian State University is dedicated to the transmission and advancement of knowledge and understanding. Academic freedom is essential to the achievement of these purposes. The University therefore supports and encourages freedom of inquiry for faculty members and students, to the end that they may responsibly pursue these goals through teaching, learning, research, discussion, and publication, free from internal or external restraints that would unreasonably restrict their academic endeavors.
- B. The University shall protect faculty and students in their responsible exercise of the freedom to teach, to learn, and otherwise to seek and speak the truth.
- C. Faculty and students shall share in the responsibility for maintaining an environment in which academic freedom flourishes and in which the rights of each member of the academic community are respected.

2.2 Academic Freedom and Responsibility of Faculty

- A. It is the policy of the University to support and encourage full freedom, within the law, of inquiry, discourse, teaching, research, and publication for all members of the academic community. Members of the faculty are expected to recognize that accuracy, forthrightness, and dignity befit their association with the University and their position as faculty members. They should not represent themselves, without prior express authorization, as spokespersons for the University or the University of North Carolina System.
- B. The University shall not penalize or discipline members of its faculty because of the exercise of academic freedom in the lawful pursuit of their respective areas of scholarly and professional interest and responsibility.

2.3 Primary Mission of Faculty/University. The primary mission of the University is the instruction of students. To achieve this important work, the faculty have the primary responsibility for fundamental areas such as the University's curriculum, subject matter and methods of instruction, research, aspects of student life that relate to the educational process, as well as the assessment of professional credentials of candidates for faculty positions, reappointment, tenure, and promotion.

2.4 Faculty Professional Ethics/Expectations. In daily professional interactions, all faculty members shall do the following:

- A. Treat everyone (including, but not limited to students, faculty, staff, administrators, volunteers and community members) with respect, fairness, and without bias or discrimination based on race, color, national origin, religion, sex, gender identity and expression, political affiliation, age, disability, veteran status, genetic information or sexual orientation. At all times engage others with civility to prevent interference with the working and learning environment.
- B. Teach, conduct research, and engage in service to the University with competence, honesty and the highest ethical standards.
- C. Respect the privacy of all individuals and the confidentiality of information entrusted to them regarding students in accordance with applicable law.
- D. When in a supervisory role, provide clear direction and timely feedback as well as constructive suggestions and opportunities for improvement.
- E. Resolve personal conflicts with colleagues, students, and staff in a non-threatening, constructive and private manner, when possible.
- F. Become familiar with and follow University and UNC System policies.

- G. Maintain all licenses and certifications required for their positions, participate in education and training as necessary to maintain professional competence in their discipline.
- H. Complete all required university-mandated training as appropriate for their job duties, and in a timely manner.
- I. Disclose all conflicts of personal, professional, and financial interest, as required by University policy, in a timely manner.
- J. Use University facilities, equipment, supplies and resources (including telecommunications and information technology resources) responsibly and for legitimate University business.

Faculty are expected to adhere to these professional expectations. Violations of policies in this Faculty Handbook, the Appalachian State University Policy Manual, The Code & The UNC Policy Manual, or state and federal law, related to these expectations, may result in disciplinary action.

2.5 Professional Integrity. Integrity is essential to the search for knowledge. All faculty must guard the truth, uphold the highest standards in the educational process as well as in their research and scholarship. Faculty must practice intellectual honesty at all times and protect the public trust that the academic environment has long held. Faculty must never plagiarize, fabricate or falsify information or knowingly misrepresent information or its source. Faculty must never engage in any communication that is false, misrepresented or dishonest.

2.5.1 Violations of Professional Integrity. The following shall constitute a violation of professional integrity that may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination in accordance with Chapter 9 of this Faculty Handbook.

- a. willful falsification of credentials or other information significantly related to job qualifications or responsibilities;
- b. willful nondisclosure of information significantly related to job qualifications or responsibilities; and
- c. other violations of professional ethical standards sufficiently related to a faculty member's academic responsibilities so as to disqualify the individual from effective performance of University duties or sufficiently serious as to adversely reflect on the individual's honesty, trustworthiness or fitness to be a faculty member.

2.6 Faculty Professional Workload. The professional workload for faculty members shall include teaching, research/creative activity and service to the department/program, college, University and/or the community. Teaching and instruction are the primary mission of the University and therefore teaching shall serve as the first component of determining faculty workload expectations. In accordance with UNC Policy Manual, Policy 400.3.4, the standard teaching load for all full-time faculty members shall be 24 credit hours (or equivalent contact hours) per academic year, along with routinely expected faculty duties such as advising, committee work, and professional development

2.7 Department Chair and Program Director Workload. The workload of Department Chairs, and Program Directors will be set by the Dean or the Dean's designee. In the case of Deans and other administrative faculty, workload will be set by the Provost or the Provost's designee.

2.8 Differential Teaching Loads. Differential teaching loads may be approved in recognition of differing individual circumstances including student success considerations, course-level (bachelors, masters, doctoral) course pedagogies, programmatic accreditation requirements, team-taught courses, research productivity, time bought out by external grants, significant administrative or service assignments, significant advising responsibilities, or other activities aligned with the University's mission and/or critical to student success.

2.9 Faculty Workload Assignments/Expectations. As teaching and instruction are the central responsibility and critical base of the UNC System, teaching shall serve as the first component when determining faculty workload assignments. A 1.0 FTE workload during the academic year (traditional 9-month period of faculty employment) is defined as (1) a teaching load of 24 credit hours or equivalent contact hours per academic year, which accounts for 80% of the annual workload; and (2) other faculty assignments representing 20% of the annual workload that further the mission of the academic unit and institution, such as committee work and other forms of service. This policy and the System Policy allow for flexibility and individual planning for workload and field conventions, such as that tenure-track faculty are generally expected to carry out research, scholarship, and/or creative activities as part of their workload and therefore faculty with research expectations and outcomes typically teach less than 24 credit hours per academic year. The workload for an appointment of less than 1.0 FTE shall modify the above definition of workload in a manner that is proportional to the FTE. A typical 3-credit hour (or equivalent contact hours) organized class is equivalent to 10% of the annual workload. However, upon approval of the Dean, a differentiated workload may be assigned. This framework does not necessarily equate to a 4/4 teaching workload for all faculty members (i.e., 4 course assignments in the Fall semester and 4 in the Spring semester). Instead, workload shall be measured through percentages, with percentages assigned to each category of faculty workload. These categories should align with how a faculty member is evaluated during annual reviews and in future opportunities for promotion. Faculty are expected to engage in collaborative discussion with the department chair about the workload needs of the department, school, or program. These department chairs hold responsibility and authority for the issuance of faculty workload assignments, subject to review and approval by the Dean.

2.9.1 Teaching. Consistent with N.C.G.S. 116-1(b), teaching and instruction are the central responsibilities of the UNC System and form a critical base of workload expectations for faculty. In addition to organized courses, the faculty member's instructional workload also includes but is not limited to, other instructional efforts such as developing materials for a new course, updating materials for an existing course, weekly course preparation activities, developing courseware or other materials for technology-based instruction, supervising undergraduate research and masters' theses and doctoral dissertations, directing students in co-curricular activities such as plays, preparing and equipping new laboratories, supervision of teaching assistants, supervision of internships, academic advising, mentoring, and other activities that support student success.

2.9.2 Research and Creative Activities. Faculty members engage in the work of discovering, disseminating, and applying knowledge and professional expertise. These activities may include (but are not limited to) working in laboratories, studios, clinical or community settings conducting empirical and/or theoretical research, engaging in development or translational work, and/or producing creative works. Toward that end, faculty write articles, books, monographs, and grant proposals, write patents, develop intellectual property, edit scholarly journals, prepare juried art exhibits, direct centers and institutes, or perform in plays, concerts, or musical recitals. These research/creative activities have significant implications for teaching. They enable faculty members to design course materials that reflect their respective fields' state-of-the-art and cutting-edge knowledge.

2.9.3 Service. As a public university, Appalachian State provides substantial benefits to the people and the State of North Carolina. Faculty members engage in service activities that advance the institution's work and the institution's role in supporting North Carolina. Faculty service work may include activities that enhance the scholarly life of the university or the discipline, improve the quality of life of society, or promote the general welfare of the institution, professional and academic societies, the state, the nation, the local community, or the global community. Faculty members may also be assigned administrative responsibilities, including but not limited to, Department Chair, program director, and center director.

2.10 Faculty Annual Workload Plan. All employees whose primary job classification is as a faculty member with an appointment at 0.75 FTE or more, regardless of contract length and including faculty members who also hold administrative roles, must have a workload plan. Faculty members who are employed on less than a nine-month annual basis or are less than $\frac{3}{4}$ -time may have a workload plan if directed by their academic unit. Workload plans should be designed with the missions of the university and the faculty member's academic unit and department/school/program in mind, and with student success and fiscal considerations.

2.10.1 Workload Plan Requirements. The workload plan shall include a faculty member's percentage time allocations of work effort by category (teaching, research, and service) and specify outcomes a faculty member is expected to achieve during the plan period. Furthermore, these outcomes must be aligned with the faculty member's annual reviews and demonstrate a clear link to all relevant expectations for reappointment, promotion, tenure, and/or post-tenure review, as appropriate.

2.10.2 Workload Plan Mid-Cycle Revisions. During the academic year, a significant circumstance may arise that justifies modifications to a faculty member's workload plan. Criteria for workload modification in such circumstances may be determined at the unit level. Such workload changes will be made in cases only where the newly arising circumstance represents a new component of the faculty member's assignment that is approved by the department chair. When a significant circumstance occurs and justifies revision of the work plan, as described above, the plan and statement of expected outcomes should be revised at that time, with all changes subject to approval of the Department Chair and the Dean, and the circumstances shall be acknowledged by the department chair in the affected faculty member's annual review.

2.10.3 Faculty Success Plan. A faculty member who does not adequately satisfy their workload plan expectations for the review period shall be subject to a faculty success plan. The plan must include specific steps designed to lead to improvement, targeted resources the faculty member can use to help them improve, a specified timeline in which improvement is expected to occur, and clear statement to consequences should improvement not occur within the designated timeline. These plans must be approved by the Department Chair and Dean. Consequences for failure to make improvement within the designated timeframe may include disciplinary action including but not limited to demotion or formal discharge for "sustained unsatisfactory performance" in accordance with Chapter VI, Section 603 of The Code.

2.11 Faculty Role in Curriculum Development. The basic and most important unit in determining curricula is the academic department. To accomplish curricular work, each department/academic unit and college/school shall have a curriculum committee charged with carefully considering additions, deletions, and changes to courses, programs, policies, or structures within or affecting the academic unit.

2.12 Additional Obligations of Faculty. In addition to the responsibilities above, faculty as employees of Appalachian State University also have obligations to the University. Those obligations are contained in the Appalachian State University Policy Manual. They include, but are not limited to, the following:

- A. Research Misconduct: To engage in research, scholarship and creative endeavors with integrity and to comply with the University's Research Misconduct Policy in regard to any allegations of misconduct;
- B. Grading: To ensure all final grades are reported to the Registrar by the deadline set by the University each semester;
- C. Intellectual Property: To disclose any intellectual property that may be created by the faculty member in the scope of their employment including research to the Intellectual Property Council in accordance with the University's IP Transfer Policy;
- D. Mandatory Reporter/Responsible Employee Title IX: To fulfill the role as a Mandatory Title IX Responsible Employee. Faculty members must be trained annually and report any occurrence of prohibited conduct under University Policies on Discrimination, Harassment, Title IX and Sex-Based Misconduct;
- E. Anti-Nepotism. To not engage in the supervision of an individual that is either related to the faculty member or is in a personal or amorous relationship with the faculty member in violation of UNC Policy Manual, Policy 300.4.2 and 300.4.2[G]. When appropriate, Department Chairs who have spouses or partners in the department they oversee shall be required to have a COI management plan in place to ensure their spouse reports to another administrator to ensure compliance with these policies.
- F. Improper Relationships: To not engage in an amorous relationship with an enrolled student(s) in violation of the University's Policy on Improper Relationships between Students and Employees.
- G. Signature Authority: To comply with the University's Delegation of Signature Authority Policy and to not sign any contractual documents on behalf of the University, including click-through software agreements, unless the faculty member has received prior written delegation of signature authority from the University;
- H. IT Software or Hardware Acquisition: To follow the University's IT Acquisition process through the University's ITS department prior to the use or purchase of any software or hardware;

- I. Conflict of Interest or Commitment: To not engage in activities that would result in a conflict of interest or conflict of commitment in violation of the University's Conflict of Interest and Commitment Policy;
- J. Outside Work: To only engage in outside work or professional activities for pay when approved in accordance with the University's External Professional Activities for Pay Policy;
- K. Political Activities/Office Holding: To comply with all University and UNC System policies regarding engaging in political activities and candidacy for or holding a public office;
- L. Duty to Cooperate: To fully cooperate in any investigation or other administrative process whether the faculty member is the respondent or just a witness, at the request of the University. Failure to cooperate with any such investigation or administrative process could result in disciplinary action and the North Carolina Attorney General's Office choosing to not indemnify or defend the faculty member under the Defense of State Employees Act.
- M. Misuse of State Property: To engage in the responsible use of state property and avoid at all times using any state property for personal, political or other unapproved purposes. To report the misuse of any state property or buildings to their immediate supervisor; and
- N. Other: To comply with all other applicable University or UNC System policies in existence or when approved.

Chapter 3: Tenure-Track Faculty Appointments, Contracts, Performance Reviews, and Promotion/Tenure Process

3.1 Introduction. The Code & The UNC Policy Manual of the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina authorizes the establishment of tenure eligible appointments. Tenure-eligible ranks, as well as criteria for and processes necessary to making appointments, conferring tenure, and promotion are set forth in this Faculty Handbook and in the AASOP.

3.2 Tenure Eligible Appointments. The University shall require the doctorate or other appropriate earned terminal degree for all full-time tenure eligible faculty appointments above the rank of Instructor unless there are exceptional circumstances. The tenure eligible ranks are Instructor, Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor. Minimum qualifications for each are below. Any Department or discipline specific qualifications shall be specified in the Department's foundational documents.

3.2.1 Instructor. The rank of Instructor is appropriate when the individual lacks, when appointed, one or more qualifications for appointment to a rank of Assistant Professor.

a. An Instructor must possess at a minimum:

- i. a master's degree from an accredited institution in a relevant field, or special competencies in lieu of the master's degree, or completion of all but the final requirements of the doctorate or other appropriate terminal degree;
- ii. evidence of ability in teaching; and
- iii. evidence of potential in either: (1) research or other germane creative activity; or (2) professional service to the University and/or to the public.

b. Initial Appointment/Requirements. A tenure eligible faculty member that does not possess the minimum requirements to be hired at the rank of an Assistant Professor will receive an initial appointment that includes the condition of completion of all requirements for the position prior to the date stated in contract (July 31 for fall hires and November 30 for spring hires). In the event these requirements are not satisfied, the appointment shall be changed to the rank of Instructor for a probationary term of one (1) academic year and the salary reduced to a lower rate commensurate with other full-time non-tenure track faculty in the same department in accordance with the faculty employment contract provisions.

c. Failure to Meet Requirements for Assistant Professor. If the Instructor still does not meet the requirements for the rank of Assistant Professor prior to the end of the one-year probationary term the Department Chair and Dean following receipt of the recommendation from the APT Committee shall determine if the faculty member will be offered:

- i. A reappointment for an additional one-year probationary term at the same rank of Instructor; or
- ii. A terminal appointment at the rank of Instructor for one (1) additional academic year; or
- iii. Notice that they will not be reappointed at the end of their current fixed term employment contract.

d. Reappointment Limits. Instructors may only be reappointed at the same rank for a total of four (4) academic years. Each of these terms counts toward tenure.

e. Notice of Non-Reappointment. In the event an Instructor will not be reappointed, the final faculty employment decision shall be made by the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor early enough to permit reasonable notice to be given. For a full-time Instructor, timely notice shall be as follows:

- i. During the first year of service, the faculty member shall be given not less than sixty (60) calendar days' written notice before the specified term contract expires;
- ii. During the second year of continuous service, the faculty member shall be given not less than ninety (90) calendar days' written notice before the specified term contract expires; and
- iii. After two or more years of continuous service, the faculty member shall be given not less than twelve (12) months' written notice before the specified term contract expires.

3.2.2 Assistant Professor.

a. An Assistant Professor must possess at a minimum:

- i. the appropriate earned terminal degree from an accredited institution, unless there are exceptional circumstances;
- ii. demonstrated ability in teaching;
- iii. evidence of ability for research or other germane creative activity; and
- iv. willingness to contribute to institutional affairs and professional service to the University and/or to the public.

b. Initial Appointment/Probationary Periods. An initial appointment to the rank of Assistant Professor will be for a probationary term of four (4) academic years unless there is credit towards tenure. If a faculty member begins employment in the spring semester (January – May), the first probationary year shall begin in the subsequent academic year. If an Assistant Professor is reappointed at the end of their initial probationary period, the appointment shall be for a second probationary term of three (3) academic years. Under no circumstances should the total length of probation exceed seven (7) years of full-time service except when the probationary period has been extended due to an approved leave or other extenuating circumstances (See Chapter 5 and the AASOP).

c. Notice of Non-Reappointment. In the event an Assistant Professor will not be reappointed, the final faculty employment decision shall be made by the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor early enough to permit reasonable notice to be given. For a full-time Assistant Professor, timely notice shall be as follows:

- i. During the first year of service, the faculty member shall be given not less than sixty (60) calendar days' written notice before the specified term contract expires;
- ii. During the second year of continuous service, the faculty member shall be given not less than ninety (90) calendar days' written notice before the specified term contract expires; and

d. Grant of Credit Toward Tenure. A candidate for Assistant Professor must request that any credit for tenure-track service received at another institution be granted toward tenure at the time of the offer of employment for any such credit to be considered by the University. Credit towards tenure may be for a maximum of two (2) years. To request such credit, the candidate must submit a written request with supporting documentation to the Department Chair at the time of the offer of employment. The Chair, following receipt of the recommendation from the APT Committee, shall discuss the request with the Dean. The Dean shall make a recommendation to the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor. The Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor's decision shall be final and shall be included in the candidate's initial faculty employment contract. No requests for the grant of credit towards tenure received at another institution shall be considered after the initial faculty employment contract has been signed. Credit granted towards tenure shall be irrevocable.

e. Application for Tenure. An Assistant Professor must be considered for tenure during their sixth academic year (or earlier if they have been granted credit toward tenure). However, an Assistant Professor who has demonstrated exceptional performance by exceeding the Department's criteria during their probationary period may apply for promotion and tenure during their fifth academic year.

- i. All applications for tenure shall be made in accordance with the requirements outlined in the AASOP
- ii. An Assistant Professor may elect to be evaluated under either the Department's current criteria for promotion and tenure or the criteria that was in effect at the time of their hire. The faculty member must notify the Department Chair of their choice at the time they submit their application. If the faculty member does not notify the Department Chair of their choice as a part of their promotion and tenure materials, the faculty member's materials will automatically be evaluated under the Department's current criteria.

3.2.3 Associate Professor.

a. An Associate Professor must possess at a minimum (except as provided in Section 3.3 below):

- i. the appropriate earned terminal degree from an accredited institution;
- ii. at least five (5) years of appropriate experience, unless there are exceptional circumstances;
- iii. recognized skill in teaching;
- iv. recognized accomplishment in research or other germane creative activity;
- v. recognized accomplishment in professional service to the University and/or to the public; and
- vi. demonstrated willingness to participate in institutional affairs.

b. Initial Appointment/Reappointment. An initial appointment to the rank of Associate Professor may be with tenure or for a probationary fixed term of up to five (5) academic years before becoming eligible to apply for tenure. If a faculty member begins employment in the spring semester (January – May), the first probationary year shall begin in the subsequent academic year.

c. Notice of Non-Reappointment. In the event an Associate Professor on a probationary fixed term will not be reappointed, the final faculty employment decision shall be made by the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor early enough to permit reasonable notice to be given. For a full-time Associate Professor without tenure, timely notice shall be as follows:

- i. During the first year of service, the faculty member shall be given not less than sixty (60) calendar days' written notice before their specified term employment contract expires;
- ii. During the second year of continuous service, the faculty member shall be given not less than ninety (90) calendar days' written notice before their specified term employment contract expires; and

d. Grant of Credit Toward Tenure. A candidate for Associate Professor who is not appointed with tenure, must request that any credit for tenure-track service at another institution be granted toward tenure at the time of the offer of employment for any such credit to be considered by the University. Credit towards tenure may be for a maximum of two (2) years. To request such credit, the candidate must submit a written request with supporting documentation to the Department Chair at the time of the offer of employment. The Chair, following receipt of the recommendation from the APT Committee, shall discuss the request with the Dean. The Dean shall make a recommendation to the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor. The Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor's decision shall be final and shall be included in the candidate's initial faculty employment contract. No requests for the grant of credit towards tenure received at another institution shall be considered after the initial faculty employment contract has been signed. Credit provided towards tenure shall be irrevocable.

e. Application for Tenure/Promotion. An Associate Professor who was initially appointed without tenure may apply for tenure at any time during the probationary term; however, they must be considered for tenure no later than their fourth academic year. Under no circumstances should the length of the probationary period exceed four (4) academic years of full-time service except when the probationary period has been extended due to an approved leave or other extenuating circumstances. (See Chapter 5 and the AASOP). An Associate Professor may apply for promotion to the rank of Professor once they meet the requirements under Section 3.2.4.

- i. All applications for tenure or promotion shall be made in accordance with the requirements outlined in the AASOP.

- ii. An Associate Professor may elect to be evaluated under either the Department's current criteria for promotion and tenure or the criteria that was in effect at the time that the faculty member was tenured and promoted to the rank of associate professor or appointed with tenure at the rank of associate professor. The faculty member must notify the Department Chair of their choice at the time they submit their application. If the faculty member does not notify the Department Chair of their choice as a part of their promotion and tenure materials, the faculty member's materials will automatically be evaluated under the Department's current criteria. Should the faculty member take more than five (5) years from the initial date of eligibility to seek promotion to the rank of Professor, the candidate shall then be bound by the Department's criteria in place at the time they seek promotion.

3.2.4 Professor. An initial appointment to the rank of Professor shall be made with permanent tenure.

- a. A Professor must possess at a minimum (except as provided in Section 3.3 below):
- b. the appropriate earned terminal degree from an accredited institution;
- c. at least ten (10) completed years of appropriate experience;
- d. recognized skill in teaching;
- e. demonstrated ability and participation in professional service to the University and/or public; and
- f. evidence of at least one of the following: (1) outstanding accomplishment in research or other germane creative activity with ongoing, recognized accomplishment in professional service to the University and/or public; or (2) outstanding accomplishment in professional service to the University and/or to the public with ongoing, recognized accomplishment in research or other germane creative activity.

3.3 Exceptions to Minimum Qualifications. It is in the sole discretion of the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor to approve any exceptions to minimum qualifications for faculty members. Any requests for exceptions must be submitted by completing a Faculty Credential Template Form. The faculty success plan shall detail the changes in duties and responsibilities the faculty member's annual work plan and shall also change accordingly to ensure the faculty member is evaluated appropriately, based on the relevant allocation of workload [Faculty Handbook 2.6]

Any such contingencies shall be included in the faculty employment contract.

4.4.2 Special Faculty Appointments with Special Funding. Any Special Faculty employment contract for a position funded in whole or in substantial part from sources other than continuing state appropriated funds, shall include language specifying that the faculty member's employment shall at all times be contingent upon the availability of such special funds.

4.5 Abandonment of Position. Any special faculty member who needs to be absent during the academic term shall notify their Department Chair and Dean in writing in advance of the proposed absence. Any special faculty member who does not report for the opening day of classes in any term and continues to be absent for fourteen (14) calendar days without being excused by the Department Chair and Dean, or is absent at any point in the term for fourteen (14) consecutive days when classes are in session without being excused by the Department Chair and Dean, shall be subject to formal discharge in accordance with Chapter 9 of this Faculty Handbook.

4.6 Resignations of Special Faculty. Due to academic responsibilities of faculty positions, all special faculty members must provide written notice of their intention to resign their position to the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor with an effective date at the end of the term in which they intend to resign (December 31 or June 30). Upon receipt of the notice of intent to resign, the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor or the Provost's designee shall respond in writing to the faculty member confirming the resignation and effective date of such resignation.

4.7 Summer Resignations. Special Faculty may be paid for summer courses at the posted adjunct salary rate in the Academic Affairs Pay Schedule or, if on a continuing contract, as a percentage of their nine-month base salary. If a special faculty member submits their intention to resign, resigns, or is terminated from their special faculty position prior to August 30, they will not be paid the percentage of their nine-month base salary, but will be paid at the posted adjunct salary rate in the Academic Affairs Pay Schedule for all summer work performed.

4.8 Special Faculty Retirement. Full time special faculty who are eligible for benefits shall consult with the Office of Human Resources regarding retirement. All retirements shall be in accordance with Chapter 135 of the North Carolina General Statutes.

4.9 Special Faculty Teaching Effectiveness. Due to the primacy of teaching, Special Faculty members with teaching responsibilities shall be subject to annual teaching performance assessment, which shall include the following: (1) peer assessment (2) student feedback and comprehensive reviews, including reviews for extension of Special Faculty appointments. Any additional assessments shall be specified in the Department's foundational documents. Appropriate and timely feedback from evaluations shall be provided to the special faculty members each year.

4.9.1 Student Reviews of Faculty Instruction. The University's online survey shall be conducted in all classes in at least one (1) semester of each academic year. Student reviews of faculty instruction can provide insight into a number of the important dimensions of a teacher's efforts: classroom performance, advising, and informal and formal contact with students. The University online survey shall be conducted in all classes in at least one semester of every academic year. Colleges/Schools and Departments may choose to review more frequently and/or employ additional methods to offer students the opportunity to provide feedback on instruction, but those methods must be outlined in the college/school or department's foundational documents.

4.9.2 Peer Observation of Special Faculty. Special Faculty members with teaching responsibilities as well as Teaching Assistants and graduate students in teaching roles shall participate in peer observation of teaching in accordance with the following:

- a. In the first three (3) years of continuous service, Special Faculty shall participate in a minimum of one (1) peer observation of teaching per academic year (if the contract is for one term only, a peer observation of teaching must be conducted in that term). After three (3) years of continuous service, there must be at least one (1) peer observation of teaching per contract period. Teaching assistants and graduate students in teaching roles shall be subject to a minimum of one (1) peer observation of teaching per academic year (if the contract is for one term only, a peer observation of teaching must be conducted in that term).
- b. Departments shall adopt procedures and practices for peer observations of teaching that shall include:
 - i. An orderly rotation among all faculty of the responsibility for peer observations;
 - ii. A uniform format for the observation;
 - iii. Reporting of the results to the Department Chair(s), with a copy provided to the faculty member being observed, within ten (10) calendar days following the observation;
 - iv. The right of a faculty member being observed to request an additional peer observation by a different faculty member and the right of a faculty member being observed to provide a written response to any peer observation. Such a response must be presented to the Department Chair within seven (7) calendar days from the receipt of the peer observation and shall be attached to the peer observation narrative.

4.10 Annual Review of Special Faculty. Each special faculty member shall have their performance assessed annually by their respective Department Chair/Supervisor. For each review, the faculty member shall provide a performance self-assessment to the Department Chair. The Department Chair shall meet with each faculty member to review the work of the faculty member relative to their approved work plan including the faculty member's performance related to teaching, research/creative activity and service and shall develop the work plan for the upcoming academic year. A faculty member who does not adequately satisfy their workload expectations for the review period shall be subject to a Performance Improvement Plan. The plan must include specific steps designed to lead to improvement, a specified timeline in which improvement is expected to occur, and a clear statement of consequences should improvement not occur within the designated timeline. These plans must be approved by the Dean.

4.10.1 Items Not Considered in Annual Review No items that will be considered or relied upon in an Annual Review may be placed in the faculty member's personnel file within seven (7) calendar days prior to the Annual Review, except under extenuating circumstances.

4.10.2 Presence of an Observer at the Annual Review. Special Faculty members have the right to request, no later than three (3) calendar days prior to their annual performance review meeting with the Department Chair, to be accompanied by an observer of their choosing. If the faculty member chooses to bring an observer, the Department Chair may also have an observer at the meeting. Observers may not participate in the discussion between the faculty member and the Department Chair and in no event may an observer be present as an attorney for either party. Due to the confidential nature of the annual performance review meeting and the fact that personnel information will be shared, all observers must sign an Observer Waiver in advance of attending the meeting. This document includes the faculty member's authorization for the observer to hear the confidential information and commits the observer to maintain the confidentiality of any information heard at the meeting.

4.11 Subsequent Appointment of Special Faculty.

4.11.1 Submission of Materials for Review. Special Faculty members seeking appointment for a subsequent term shall follow departmental guidelines for submission of materials for review.

4.11.2 Recommendation of APT Committee. The Department Chair shall provide materials related to requests for subsequent appointment to the APT Committee for consideration. Upon review of the materials and a vote, the final recommendation regarding the subsequent appointment of a Special Faculty member shall be forwarded to the Department Chair by the APT Committee Chair.

4.11.3 Department Chair Recommendation. The Department Chair shall review the vote, recommendation of the APT Committee, and all attached materials. Upon review, the Department Chair shall forward the APT Committee recommendation and an independent recommendation to the Dean within seven (7) calendar days.

4.11.4 Dean Recommendation. The Dean shall review the Department Chair's recommendation and all attached materials. The Dean shall then submit an independent recommendation regarding subsequent appointment to the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor within fourteen (14) calendar days, except under extenuating circumstances.

4.11.5 Provost Determination. The Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor shall review the Dean's recommendation, and all attached supporting materials. The Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor's determination regarding subsequent appointment of a Special Faculty member shall be final.

4.11.6 Notification to Special Faculty Member. A Special Faculty member who will be offered a subsequent appointment shall receive a new faculty employment contract by the end of their current contract term. Special Faculty members shall be notified that they must return their signed faculty employment contract within ten (10) calendar days and that failure to return the signed faculty employment contract within the ten (10) calendar days shall be interpreted to mean that the faculty member has declined the appointment.

4.11.7 No Grievance Rights. Special Faculty members are not covered by s Chapter VI, Section 604 of The Code and that section does not afford them any rights to additional review of a decision by the University to not grant a subsequent appointment at the end of any fixed term contract.

4.12 Promotion of Special Faculty. Special Faculty members whose appointments qualify for consideration for promotion in rank may apply in accordance with the process established in their department's foundational documents and the AASOP. All decisions on promotion of Special Faculty by the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor are final. A candidate whose promotion is denied, but who has not yet reached the maximum number of appointments for Special Faculty set forth in this Chapter, may still be eligible to receive a subsequent appointment at the existing rank and can apply for promotion again in subsequent years.

Chapter 5: Leaves, Benefits and Personnel Files

5.1 Faculty Leaves. There may be times when a faculty member may need or desire to be absent in total or in part for an extended period of time. In such cases, faculty members requiring or requesting leave are expected to follow the processes outlined in this section of the Faculty Handbook and the procedures found in the AASOP. The appropriate authority determines the acceptability for the absence from duty, and if necessary, the Department Chair will coordinate substitute arrangements in consultation with the Dean.

5.1.1 Faculty Leave and Benefits. Prior to taking leave, all faculty are encouraged to speak with the Office of Human Resources to determine benefit continuation options.

5.1.2 Effect of Leave on Tenure/PTR. Any academic year during which a Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty member is on unpaid professional leave (See Section 5.2 below) or on paid/unpaid medical leave: (i) for more than twenty-five (25) class days of the academic calendar or (2) receives a total teaching-load reduction of more than six (6) credit hours per semester, excluding buyouts, will not count toward the faculty member's tenure or PTR, unless the faculty member requests in writing to the Departmental Chair that it be counted.

5.1.3 Service Obligations During Approved Leave. A faculty member is relieved of all service obligations to the University while on paid or unpaid leave, including professional leave and medical leave. More specifically, a faculty member is not eligible to serve on departmental, college or University committees during the period of time in which the leave occurs, or during an academic year in which they are absent from campus from any reason (for example, on a foreign exchange) for a semester or more. However, tenured faculty members may choose to participate in Appointment, Promotion, and Tenure Committees (APT) meetings while on professional leave or reassigned time, provided they are not located in a foreign country on leave.

5.2 Professional Leave (Unpaid). Professional leave may be granted to tenure-track or tenured faculty members to further their research, or to undertake advanced study or other professional development experiences. This type of leave also allows faculty members to accept competitive awards for these opportunities, including those that provide an externally funded salary to the faculty member. This form of leave is also an option for those that are not able to apply for Reassigned Time due to lack of eligibility. Professional leave, however, is not an entitlement and is not based on length of service. Decisions to grant or deny requests for professional leave will be based on the following: (1) merits of the proposal; (2) productivity appropriate for the discipline; (3) the ability to cover the faculty member's course(s) and other work; (4) business needs of the department, college and University; (5) the faculty member's stage of career development; (6) and the availability of funds.

5.2.1 Eligibility/Duration. Tenured and tenure-track faculty members are eligible to request Professional Leave (unpaid). Professional leave may be requested for one semester or one academic year.

5.2.2 All requests for professional leave shall be made by the faculty member to their Department Chair no less than one year prior to the requested leave period in accordance with the process provided in the AASOP.

5.3 Reassigned Time Leave. Reassigned Time Leave is to provide full-time, tenured faculty members sustained and dedicated periods of time to carry out tasks related to teaching, research/creative endeavors, or external activities related to their position. Reassigned Time Leave is not an entitlement nor is it based on length of service; rather it is granted or denied based on the availability of funds, ability to cover the course(s) and other work of the requesting faculty member, and on the merits of the individual proposal. A faculty member may appeal a denied application for Reassigned Time Leave in accordance with the procedures found in the AASOP.

5.3.1 Eligibility. Only the following faculty members are eligible to apply for Reassigned Time Leave:

- a. Full-time tenured faculty members;
- b. Full-time tenured faculty members holding an administrative appointment, with the support of the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor. If approved for leave, the faculty member's administrative role will be reassigned and the faculty member will forgo all administrative stipends for the period of the Reassigned Time Leave.
- c. Tenure-track faculty members in their last probationary year may apply; however, if the Reassigned Time Leave is approved, the Reassigned Time Leave will be contingent upon the faculty member receiving tenure.

- d. Tenured Faculty members are only eligible to apply for Reassigned Time Leave after being employed for six (6) years; and are only eligible to reapply for Reassigned Time Leave every six (6) years after taking an approved Reassigned Time Leave.

5.3.1.1 Reassigned Time Request while subject to Faculty Success Plan. Faculty members subject to a Faculty Success Plan may be eligible for Reassigned Time Leave if connected to their completion of the Faculty Success Plan in the review cycle.

5.3.2 Duration of Leave. Faculty members may be awarded Reassigned Time for either one (1) or two (2) semesters.

5.3.3 Compensation. Depending on availability of funds, faculty members may be granted Reassigned Time Leave for a full academic year for no less than fifty percent (50%) of their annual salary or leave for one (1) semester for full salary.

- a. Reduction of Salary Based on External Funds. If the faculty member is receiving any funds from an external source, the faculty member's total salary cannot exceed their current annual salary. The faculty member's salary shall be adjusted to take into account the external funds. Compensation for salary and expenses from all sources shall be included in the proposal and approved before the leave is granted. If the amount or source of compensation changes, the faculty member must immediately notify the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for approval of the changes.
- b. External Funds Excluded from Salary Calculations. Funds obtained by the faculty member for travel, per diem, housing and similar expenses are not considered salary.
- c. Supplemental Funds. A faculty member on Reassigned Time Leave may not receive any supplemental funds (e.g. one-time or overload pay) from the University.

5.3.4 Request for Reassigned Time Leave. All requests for Reassigned Time Leave shall be made by the faculty member to their Department Chair no less than one year prior to the requested leave period in accordance with the process provided in the AASOP. All requests for Reassigned Time Leave shall include the following:

- a. an abstract of the proposed project (maximum one (1) page);
- b. compensation for salary or any expenses from all external sources;
- c. faculty member's current curriculum vitae;
- d. a narrative which shall include the following: (i) a detailed description of the research or creative project; (ii) potential enhancement of the faculty member's teaching, scholarship, or service and the potential value to the teaching, scholarship or service of the department, university or community; (iii) contribution to the knowledge in the field of study or discipline; and (iv) expected outcomes from the project, for example the submission or publication of one or more peer reviewed articles, a book or book chapters, or a patent; and
- e. invitations to other institutions, award letters for fellowships, or other supporting documentation.

5.3.5 Terms and Conditions for Reassigned Time Leave. The terms and conditions of an approved Reassigned Time Leave shall be documented in a Reassigned Time Leave Faculty Contract issued from Academic Affairs. Faculty members shall sign and return the contract within ten (10) calendar days. The failure to return the signed contract within the ten (10) calendar day period shall be interpreted to mean the faculty member has declined to accept the terms of Reassigned Time and the approval shall be invalidated.

5.3.6 Faculty Expectations During Reassigned Time Leave.

- a. Faculty members on Reassigned Time Leave are expected to be devoted full-time to the approved project with a goal toward producing a tangible creative or scholarly product.
- b. Reassigned Time Leave will count as time toward promotion to professor and/or PTR.
- c. A faculty member is relieved of all service obligations to the University while on Reassigned Time Leave. Tenured faculty members may choose to participate in APT Committee meetings while on Reassigned Time Leave.

- d. Faculty members on Reassigned Time Leave are expected to maintain contact with any graduate student advisees or make arrangements to ensure that students' progress toward graduation will not be disrupted. This expectation will be clearly stated in the Reassigned Time Leave Faculty Contract.

- e. Faculty members on Reassigned Time Leave shall be required to participate in and undergo the annual performance evaluation process.
- f. Faculty members on Reassigned Time Leave will continue to have the general obligations of a University employee other than teaching and service during the reassigned period, including but not limited to the following: (i) remaining accessible through a reliable means of communication with their supervisor, (ii) complying reasonably with directives of supervisors and other University officials, (iii) responding in a timely and cooperative manner to requests for information, and (iv) taking such other action as may be required to comply with any applicable law, or University policy/process.
- g. Faculty on Reassigned Time Leave are eligible for consideration for merit salary increases, promotion, and any other salary adjustments as approved by the General Assembly (consistent with the instruction of the Office of State Budget and Management), the Board of Governors, and the University.
- h. Faculty on Reassigned Time Leave will continue to receive university contributions for the State Health Plan and the State Employees' Retirement System or the UNC Optional Retirement Program in accordance with the UNC System Code and Policy Manual. A faculty member should contact the Office of Human Resources regarding information about continuation of other benefits while on Reassigned Time.
- i. Any intellectual property (including patentable and copyrightable works) that result from approved Reassigned Time Leave shall be subject to the requirements of the UNC System Patent and Copyright Policy and the Appalachian Intellectual Property Transfer Policy. Patentable materials created during Reassigned Time Leave will be owned by the University and copyrighted materials may be owned by the University. Faculty members shall complete an IP Disclosure form for any IP created during any period of Reassigned Time Leave and shall not sign any contracts granting ownership or rights to a publisher or other outside entity until the ownership of the IP is determined by University in accordance with the Appalachian Intellectual Property Transfer Policy. This information will be clearly stated in the Reassigned Time Leave Faculty Contract.

5.3.7 Faculty Expectations Upon Return from Reassigned Time Leave.

- a. Faculty members shall be required to return to full-time employment at the University at the end of the Reassigned Time Leave. The period of obligation shall be twice that granted for the Reassigned Time Leave. If the faculty member does not return for the required period, that faculty member shall be required to repay the salary received during the entire Reassigned Time Leave by a date specified by the University. These provisions will be clearly stated in the Reassigned Time Leave Faculty Contract.
- b. A faculty member on Reassigned Time Leave who accepts a position at another post-secondary institution or any other paid employment that was not included in the proposal or approved in accordance with the External Professional Activities for Pay Policy, shall be considered to have failed to comply with the requirements of the Reassigned Time Leave and will be considered to have resigned their employment at Appalachian State University.
- c. Faculty members shall within three (3) months after the end of the Reassigned Time Leave be required to submit a report substantial enough to convey all of the work accomplished during the leave to their Department Chair and Dean.
- d. Within one (1) year after the end of the Reassigned Time Leave, faculty may be required by the Department if specified in their foundational documents, to provide a formal presentation of the work accomplished during the Reassigned Time Leave to department colleagues and/or the University community at large.
- e. The failure of any faculty member to comply with the terms and conditions set forth in this section may result in the faculty member not being considered for future Reassigned Time Leave, may be reflected in annual performance evaluations, and may subject the faculty member to repayment of the salary received during the Reassigned Time Leave.

5.4 Faculty Family/Medical Leave. Faculty members may find it necessary to be absent and unable to perform their duties for an extended period of time due to serious illness, disability or family responsibilities. In these situations, faculty members who meet the criteria below are able to apply for a paid leave of absence.

5.4.1 Faculty Eligibility. Consistent with the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and UNC Policy Manual 300.2.11 and 300.2.11[G], faculty members who meet all the following conditions are eligible to apply for Family/Medical Leave:

- a. employed in a nine, ten, or eleven month, full-time, non-leave earning faculty position; and
- b. been continuously employed by Appalachian for at least twelve (12) consecutive calendar months; and
- c. has been in pay status at least 1040 hours during the previous twelve months;
- d. eligible to participate in the NC Teachers' and State Employees' Retirement System or the UNC Optional Retirement Program.

5.4.2 Eligible Conditions: Consistent with FMLA, the following are qualifying conditions for Family/Medical Leave:

- a. the birth of a child and to care for the newborn child within one year of birth;
- b. placement of or care for a child with the faculty member for adoption or foster care within one year of placement;
- c. serious health condition of the faculty member's child, spouse, or parent, that requires the faculty member's care; or
- d. serious health condition of the faculty member that prevents the faculty member from performing the essential functions of their job.

5.4.3 Duration. While the total period of time provided by the FMLA for job-protected leave is twelve (12) weeks or four hundred eighty (480) hours within a twelve (12) month period, due to the teaching/instruction structure of faculty positions, the duration of the leave shall be for one full semester.

5.4.4 Compensation. Faculty members approved for Family/Medical leave shall be entitled to their full compensation for one semester. Any additional leave requested (See Extension of Leave Section below) will be unpaid leave.

5.4.5 Requests for Family/Medical Leave. Faculty members who find it necessary to take Family/Medical leave must complete a Request for Leave of Absence Form on the Appalachian Office of Human Resources website. Certification from a health care provider or other medical documentation may be requested to determine eligibility for Family/Medical Leave. All requests for Family/Medical leave shall state the reason(s) for the request and the expected length of time (not to exceed one semester) the absence or reduced workload is expected to last. All Family/Medical Leave requests shall be submitted at least sixty (60) days in advance of the leave or as soon as practicable after the need for the leave is foreseeable.

5.4.5.1 Notification of Department Chair and Dean. Upon determination that the faculty member is eligible for Family/Medical Leave, the Leave Management Administrator in HR shall inform the Department Chair and Dean of the faculty member's paid leave designation with a copy to the faculty member.

5.4.5.2 Notification of Family/Medical Leave to Provost. Upon receipt of the determination from the Office of Human Resources that the faculty member is eligible for Family/Medical Leave, the Dean shall notify the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor, with a copy to the CFO of Academic Affairs, of the approval of the Family/Medical Leave and the plan to cover the responsibilities of the faculty member for the duration of the leave.

5.4.6 Coverage of Faculty Member's Duties. The Department Chair in consultation with the Dean shall be responsible for arranging coverage of the faculty member's duties. Any adjustments to work schedules within the department are at the discretion of the Department Chair with the approval of the Dean and are subject to department and University needs and resources. Whenever funds and qualified candidates are available, replacement instructors shall be hired to assume the duties of a faculty member while on leave. Responsibility for covering the cost of replacement instructors will be determined through consultations among the Department Chair, Dean, and Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor.

5.4.7 Confidentiality of Medical Information. Any information obtained by the Leave Management Administrator related to the faculty member's eligibility will be maintained confidentially in the Leave Management Office of Human Resources in compliance with the FMLA.

5.4.8 Family/Medical Leave Concurrent with FMLA Leave. All periods of paid leave under this policy will be construed as family and medical leave under the Family Medical Leave Act, and the FMLA entitlement of twelve (12) weeks without pay will run concurrently with any period of paid medical leave.

5.4.9 Other Benefits/Insurance During Family/Medical Leave. Paid leave provided under this section has no effect on the faculty member's other employment benefits. During Family/Medical leave, Appalachian will continue to pay the employer portion of faculty member's health insurance premiums. However, the faculty member is responsible for any employee/dependent costs. In the event a faculty member fails to return to work following their medical leave, or if the faculty member resigns their position within thirty (30) calendar days after the return to work, Appalachian may bill the faculty member for the employer paid health insurance premium that was paid during the period of medical leave unless the reason for the resignation is related to the faculty member's health condition, recurrence or onset of a serious health condition.

5.4.10 Returning to Work. When leave is taken due to the faculty member's medical condition, the University may require that the faculty member have a health care provider certify that the faculty member is fit to resume duties. The University makes the ultimate decision as to the faculty member's fitness to resume duties.

5.4.11 Extended Leave Requests. In the event a faculty member is not able to return to work at the end of the semester and needs to be out of work for an additional period of time, the faculty member can apply for either an unpaid leave of absence or a medical disability leave. The North Carolina Family Illness Act allows for an extension of up to fifty-two (52) weeks of leave without pay during a five-year period in cases of serious illness of a child, spouse, or parent.

5.4.12 Unused Leave. Faculty members with a balance of accrued leave from a previous twelve (12) month appointment will be required to exhaust that leave before receiving paid leave under this section. Unused leave will not be accumulated or carried over to another academic year; allowable as terminal leave payment when the faculty member leaves the University; or used to extend years of creditable service for retirement benefit purposes.

5.4.13 Other Campus Obligations/Relieved of All Duties. During the period a faculty member is out on Family/Medical leave, the faculty member is relieved of all duties and not permitted to participate in any department, college, or University committees or other obligations.

5.5 Additional Forms of Leave.

- A. Military Leave. Leave is granted to fulfill a military obligation, such as a call to active duty for a reservist. (See UNC Policy 300.2.8). For additional information regarding Military Family Leave please contact the Office of Human Resources.
- B. Community Service Leave. Leave may be granted under certain circumstances for twelve-month leave earning faculty to support volunteer activities at schools, communities, citizens and non-profit charitable organizations. (See UNC Policy 300.2.10)
- C. Other Special Leaves of Absence. Any faculty member that otherwise needs to seek a leave of absence on a temporary, part-time, or full-time basis should discuss the reason(s) for the need of a leave with their Department Chair and Dean. Special leaves, with or without pay, may be granted at the sole discretion of the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor.

5.6 Faculty Personnel Files. In accordance with the North Carolina State Human Resources Act, all University employees, including faculty members, have an official personnel file. The Personnel file includes any employment-related or personal information gathered by the University with respect to an individual applicant for employment, current employee, or former employee. The Personnel file may include, but not be limited to, the following information: any information that relates to the individual's application, selection or non-selection for a position, promotions, demotions, transfers, leave, salary, suspension, annual performance evaluations, faculty employment contracts, student review and peer review materials, promotion and tenure materials, post tenure review materials, performance improvement plans, professional development plans, disciplinary actions, grievance documentation and any termination of employment documentation.

5.6.1 Information Not Contained in Personnel Files. Not all information that relates to an employee is part of their personnel file. Information that relates to an employee, but is not part of the personnel file includes:

- a. Investigative Materials. Any information that is otherwise confidential under other UNC System or Appalachian State University policies, including investigative files housed in the Office of Human Resources, Academic Affairs, Office of General Counsel, or the Office of Access & Equity, shall not be in the personnel file. This information, which includes witness statements and other documentary evidence, will not be released except under court order.
- b. Information Under Appeal/Review. No materials on a personnel matter that is being contested under the provisions of Chapter 9 of this Faculty Handbook shall be included in a Personnel File prior to all appellate proceedings being completed.
- c. No Anonymous Information. While anonymous reporting may be the basis for an investigation, no material or information received from or provided by anonymous sources may be placed in a personnel file. The only exception is data from student reviews of a faculty member's instruction. These materials may be used for purposes of annual evaluation and other personnel decisions.
- d. No Additions Immediately Prior to Annual Review or Other Personnel Action. No items that will be considered or relied upon in an Annual Review or other personnel action may be placed in the faculty member's personnel file within the seven (7) calendar days prior to the Annual Review or personnel action, except under extenuating circumstances.

5.6.2 Access to Personnel File. In accordance with the North Carolina State Human Resources Act, a faculty member, applicant for faculty employment, former faculty member, or the faculty member's properly authorized agent (including the faculty member's attorney) may have access to their personnel file in its entirety except for: (i) letters of reference solicited prior to employment; or (ii) information concerning a medical disability, mental or physical, that a prudent physician would not divulge to a patient. An employee's medical record may be disclosed to a licensed physician designated in writing by the employee.

5.6.2.1 Requests for Access to Personnel File. A faculty member may request access to their personnel file by making a request to the Office of Academic Affairs at least five (5) calendar days in advance of the date the faculty member wants to review the file. Upon receipt of the request, any pre-employment letters of reference and any medical information will be removed, and the faculty member will be given a scheduled date, time, and location to view the file. All faculty members shall be required to show proof of identity with a state approved identification card with photograph prior to being granted access to the file.

5.6.3 Public Information. In accordance with the North Carolina State Human Resources Act (N.C.G.S. § 126-23), certain information in a personnel file of a state employee is considered a public record and shall be made available upon request.

5.6.4 Objections to Materials in Personnel File. Any faculty member who objects to material in their personnel file may: (a) place a statement in their file relating to the material they consider to be inaccurate or misleading; (b) file a petition for a 607 grievance hearing in accordance with Chapter 9 of this Faculty Handbook.

5.6.5 Consequences for Unauthorized Release of Personnel Information.

- a. Criminal Liability. Any unauthorized public official or employee that knowingly releases or possesses any portion of a personnel file designated as confidential in accordance with the North Carolina State Human Resources Act (N.C.G.S. § 126-27) shall be guilty of a Class 3 misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined.
- b. Civil Liability. University employees, including faculty members, who engage in unauthorized disclosure or release of confidential personnel file information risk liability in civil lawsuits arising out of claims such as defamation, infliction of emotional distress, interference with contractual relationships, etc. In such lawsuits, if malice or willful conduct can be proved, punitive damages may be awarded.
- c. No Defense or Indemnification. Because litigation defense by the North Carolina Attorney General's Office, and indemnification and excess liability insurance coverage are available only to employees performing duties within the course and scope of their employment, and because conduct that violates state law or University policy is deemed outside the scope of employment, any employee who is sued or prosecuted for violating the confidentiality of personnel file information shall hire their own private attorney, bear all costs of their defense (i.e. attorney's fees and court costs), and pay for any and all damages or fines assessed against the employee.
- d. Disciplinary Action. In addition to the other consequences above, because the unauthorized disclosure of a personnel file is a violation of state law and University policy, faculty members who engage in such conduct will be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including formal discharge.
